

SENIORS SHOWN "A COLLEGE IN ACTION" MAY 7

Over 200 Visit
Classes, Buildings
On Senior Day.

"About two hundred" high school seniors from 21 Iowa high schools, one in Minnesota, and one in Illinois attended Senior day at Wartburg Wednesday, the college office announced Thursday.

The Iowa schools represented were: Albion, Clarksville, Cresco, Hampton, Platteville, Cresco, Thornton, Pomeroy, Jolley, Sumner, Clarksville, Lakota, Tripoli, Rockwell, Rockford, Manchester, Dunkerton, Redway, West Union, Fairbairn, Eldora, Lawler, and Waverly.

Four seniors came from Spring Valley, Minn., and two from Peoria, Ill.

The presentation of "The Imaginary College" yesterday evening drew high praise as one of the best college shows of recent years.

"College in Action." After registering in the morning the visitors had their choice of visiting regular classes, viewing the lab displays and food displays, witnessing a style show, or getting a glimpse of Wartburg's buildings.

After the conclusion of services in the gym at 11 o'clock Pres. E. J. Braulick extended a welcome to the seniors and on the part of the college, and Rev. Conrad Becker, superintendent of the Waverly Children's home, greeted them on behalf of the city of Waverly. The program was concluded with a prayer by Carlotta Kohn and four numbers by the Wartburg choir.

Picnic Supper Served. The band concert in the gym opened the afternoon's festivities.

Baseball games with Breda Vista and tennis matches with Luther comprised the sports events of the day. Reception was held by the home economics department from 4 to 5 o'clock. Picnic supper was served to everyone on north campus.

Wartburg Players presented "The Nightingale" by M. J. Meliere for the evening's entertainment.

WARTBURG BAND GIVES CONCERT

Specialty Numbers Added
Variety; Prof. Heist
Adds Color to Program.

A preview of the forthcoming band concert was witnessed Wednesday afternoon by Wartburg auditorium by the Wartburg student body and their guests for the day.

The concert opened with a march, "Michigan on Parade" by the band, followed by "The Sky Pilot" by Aurens. A third number, "Have a Little Faith" by Bennett, was dedicated to the high school seniors by Prof. Heist.

The second part of the program featured a bassoon solo, "At Twilight," played by Virginia Waugh, accompanied by Victoria Voelker.

Three numbers by the band followed, "Michigan" by Lorey, and then in a lighter vein, "United States" by Barmann. The highlight of the concert was the appearance of "Wartburg Sophisticated Gentlemen of Society" with George Bauman as "stopping the band" and Charlie Reimler and Victor Hennig supporting the band.

The concert closed with two numbers by the band, a waltz by Hans, and a march, "King Cotton" by Sousa.

They were seasoned troops—mastered by the general and piped by the enemy.

BUSINESS MANAGER AND EDITOR

Llewellyn Hock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Hock of Strawberry Point, Iowa, was elected editor of the 1942 Wartburg yearbook.

Hock, Kampfe Head Yearbook for 1942

Llewellyn Hock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Hock of Strawberry Point, Iowa, was elected editor of the 1942 Wartburg yearbook. May 5, Marvin Kampfe of Goldenberg, Neb., was named business manager of the yearbook in the same election.

Mr. Hock has been especially active in journalism during his years at Wartburg. He was associate editor of the 1941 Fortresses and during the past year has been editor of the Trumpet. His other activities on the campus include the managing of the book store, participation in student and membership in various organizations.

Mr. Kampfe is a member of the debate squad, junior class delegate in the student senate, a member of the pre-the society, Luther League and plays a clarinet in the band.

Mr. Hock won the election over four other candidates, namely: Albert Dilleuth, Dorothy Krueger, Olivia Denel and Edwin Schick. Kampfe beat out his only opponent, Victor Schroeder in the final election.

The board members recommended to engage a recreation counselor for 1941 and 1942. Their plan is to develop self-reliance, power of initiative and leadership by participation in these activities.

They are undertaking this in order to find a pleasant and constructive occupation for the students at least one night of every week-end. The general scheme for each week-end is Hort and Hastes, Training, Open Work Shop and Special Recreational Activities, including Athletics, Programs Exhibitions and Parties.

400 C. V. F. LEAGUERS AT WARTBURG FOR SPRING RALLY

Members Attend from 16 Leagues,
Hiltner, Braulick Lead Services.

Four hundred Leaguers from the Cedar Valley Federation gathered together on the Wartburg campus, Sunday, May 4, to form the largest annual spring rally ever held by the federation. Members of 16 leagues attended from Allison, Buck Creek, Clarksville, Cedar Falls, Denver, Greene, Hudson, Laporte City, Parkersburg, Plainfield, Redding, Sumner, Tripoli, Waterloo, and Waverly. Excepting the host league, Wartburg, the Hudson league held first place in attendance with 36 members present. Waverly had 31 present, and Trinity church of Waterloo had 33 in number.

Festivities of the day began with a service at 11 a. m. conducted by Dr. Hiltner. Pres. E. J. Braulick delivered the sermon.

Speaker

Kuhlmann Leads Services. The afternoon session took place in the college gym. Vocal selections were given by Mary Lynes, Richard Bunge, Irene Drevelow, and the male quartet of Wartburg. The band's national address of the afternoon was given by Prof. H. J. Kuhlmann. Following the address, discussions were led by Vernon Mohr, Miss Sarah Seedorf, Greene, Iowa; Rev. C. C. Schuler, and Miss June Stange on the subjects Pocket Testaments, Movement, Reading course, Bible Camp, and International Convention, respectively. The business meeting was under the direction of Roland Eichenlaub, acting-president of the federation. Following the afternoon session, the leaguers visited the buildings and participated in volleyball, horseshoe, kiffen-ball, ping-pong, and other games. Supper was served during an open-air concert by the college band.

Musical Drama Presented. Choral union singing under the direction of Dr. E. E. Eichenlaub opened the evening session. Hans Sandrock came along later and led the choir in song after song. Then the curtain rose on a hilarious pantomime, "The Light Went Out on the Taper and Naomi Neelke" entertained with readings, and William Wehrmacher did his part with a trumpet solo.

The program next presented "In Times Like These," depicting the plight of orphaned Lutheran foreign missions. An offering for this cause was taken up later.

ART CLASS MAKES INDUSTRIAL TOUR

The Industrial arts 102 class of Wartburg college spent Saturday, April 13, at Des Moines on a tour of industrial centers.

Some high lights of the tour were the visit to the Chrysler and the State Historical building. While at the airport the girls had lunch at the section of the United Airmen come in and leave the field.

According to the class, the historical building was perhaps the most interesting. The rest of the day was spent visiting the capital, the Pioneer, hybrid corn plant, and the soy bean factory, where soy beans are surveyed to find out different products, including mineral oil, shortening, and a mineral oil for candles.

The trip was the climax of a unit on transportation, retail selling, and commerce and industries of various types.

FRANKE PLACES FOURTH Erwin Franke journeyed to Luther college yesterday to take part in the annual "Franklin" general topic "Why I am a Lutheran" contest. He placed fourth with his special topic "Can you stand the test?"

The contest was taken by Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn. Fred Mueller, A. C. Kuhlmann, Sumner, and J. T. Tormquist accompanied Franke on the trip.

To Dedicate Memorial Hall at Home Sunday

Krueger, Schmidt
Headliners for Two Programs.

Memorial Hall, the new building at the Lutheran Children's Home, Iowa, was dedicated Sunday.

Headlining the day's program will be Rev. George Krueger of Clinton, Iowa, who will deliver the sermon at the dedicatory service in the afternoon; and William C. Schmidt, head of the bureau of child welfare for the state of Minnesota, who will address the evening session at Wartburg where they will sing in the evening.

Complete details of the programs and much information about the buildings and the home of this city are found on the alumni page of this paper.

This new building, housing a complete laundry, library, gymnasium-auditorium and workers' quarters, was built at a cost of $55,000. This sum was raised through the gifts of ten persons whose names are inscribed on a bronze plaque inside the main entrance.

The building was built under the supervision of a committee made up of the Rev. C. J. Martindale, Sumner; Dr. G. J. Neumann, Waverly; Rev. E. A. Hiltner, Tripoli; Rev. W. C. Nassen, Allison; E. G. Engelbrecht, Waverly; Dr. C. S. Kuhlmann, Sumner, and Rev. C. H. Becker, superintendent of the home.

WARTBURG WAYBACK

By Harold

Just saw Wartburg's Winchell dashing off his column with much haste and hasty and wandered off they printed such trash "way back when". So, off I dashed to the "Hedra" room where I remembered seeing some Wartburg Quarterlies and amongst them I discovered one from 1928. Though I didn't find a Winchell there, I did discover a column full of news which might prove right interesting to you. I found it so.

A three-days' score frightened Wartburg students in the headlines of November when twenty of our number became ill, over night as it were. The attack of sickness was in no case serious, and the exaggerated reports of local newspapers, which spoke of a "plague" as having the students in its "grip" are inexcusable. The sickness passed as quickly as it came, and without effects.

On his way to attend a meeting of the Finance Committee at Dubuque, Iowa, Rev. J. Haefner, Muscatine, Iowa, visited with his son, Alfred, November 3.

Gerhard Osterberg, '48, instructor at Sterling Academy was in evidence the latter part of the vacation.

The Wartburg Band, consisting of thirty members, made its first home-coming appearance at Andover, Iowa, November 5. Cars and trucks were the means of transportation. It is affirmed that the financial success was greater than that of any previous Wartburg concert. Hurrah for band!

(Seminary News) The students are at present attempting, as best they are able, to bear up under a greivous misfortune. The death of their father a month ago. The disaster occurred on the night of December 6th, and caused general uneasiness, in some cases hardships, and privation. Catastrophes of this sort have been known to occur before, but rarely have the effects been so deplorable and exceeding ill-fated.

Hard-pressed as they are, the Seminarymen are bravely making the best of their affliction, especially as it could have been worse. December 6 the hot-water boiler burst!

WARTBURG'S WINCHELL

By Arnold

Under a new editor we again come to press. Might just as well state my intentions to do everything I can to help our new editor — of course I have been working for a G.I.R. as the head of my department.

Feature Editor's notes: Why, Mr. Becker, I didn't know you felt that way!

With the junior-senior banquet this evening, the fellows and the gals are rushing all around and getting into their best bibbs and tuckers. Don't cry, frosh and sophomores. You'll have your chance in a year or two.

Senior day was a lot of fun. A lot of kids on the campus — just one observation — I think the gals that were rushing all around and getting into their best bibbs and tuckers. Don't cry, frosh and sophomores. You'll have your chance in a year or two.

We understand that one of our faculty members would like to have a ballet group on the Artistic Series next year. In my opinion the student body would be right behind you.

"Pudge" writes: "I'm coming back in just a minute. I'm back right and am right anxious to get back to school. A wind storm is on its way and I'm getting the first piece of lumber going north."

Seems to me this Poe and Kumpke affair is going great guns. He spends a good deal of time in the library nowadays that he used to spend studying. But then the old sage says in the spring a young man's fancy turns. I think this will do for the worse.

Well, well, our two Ferdinands, Grunke and Wuerz, were out picking vitamins on Saturday night. My dear.

Outly ought not to be very far off. We figure next week Wednesday or Thursday and will lay ten to one odds on that!

The first real tragedy of the spring—"My Johann" and Annie have been in a little tiff over an affair. He gave her back her picture she cried a little, he went out with someone else and the whole thing ended. And then, the Johann had a date with her the night after the whole affair was supposed to be over!

The eternal triangle has again rattled up the supposedly placid waters around this place. Come on, Antons, which one of the two do you want—Kalkwarf or Mohr?

We understand that Russ is wondering if he should get his hat and head for California.

With that little remark we close this column for another week. Until next time then I remain your campus correspondent, Wartburg's Winchell.

SWENSEN TO HEAD COMMITTEE

To Work on intoxication
Identification for National Safety Council.

Prof. A. W. Swensen was elected chairman of a committee to formulate plans for the development of a procedure for the identification of intoxicated students and cities at a meeting of the Committee on Tests for Intoxication of the National Safety Council of which he is a member.

On the committee with Prof. Swensen are Dr. Herman Goni, Ashland, Ohio; Serg. C. F. Van Blunkenstein of the Michigan state police department; and Officer Frank Andrews of the Evanston, Ill., police department. Mr. Swensen also attended the nineteenth annual midwest safety conference held at the Sherman hotel.

Word received from the Council indicates that a bill on the chemical identification of intoxication has passed both the house and senate in New York state, and another of like nature has passed the Illinois senate and has been reported favorably out of the Illinois house judiciary committee. It has also received favorable action in Oregon.

Statistics indicate that a greater number of men, women and children were killed on the public highways in the United States in 1940 than were killed in England last year by enemy air raids.

Conservative figures indicate that drinking drivers killed 12,000 people on the highways in the United States last year.

Hughes, Becker Elected To Head Trumpet Staff

JIM TO SERVE AS EDITOR-IN-CHIEF ART TO HANDLE BUSINESS END

James Hughes, sophomore from Strawberry Point, was chosen editor-in-chief of the Wartburg Trumpet in a student body election Monday, April 23. He was elected from a field of five candidates submitted as nominees to the student body in a primary election held on the previous Friday. In the primaries Mr. Hughes and Arthur Becker were nominated for the final elections on Monday.

The names submitted to the primaries as candidates for nomination were Arthur Becker, Albert Dalkenuth, James Hughes, Edwin Schick and Robert Wiercendy.

Mr. Hughes is a graduate of Strawberry Point high school of the class of 1939 and is pursuing a pre-theological course with a Greek major. He has been a tenor in the Wartburg College Choir during the past two years. He is also a member of the pre-theological society, and of the Wartburg publications committee of the student senate.

Mr. Hughes' experience in journalism goes back to his high school days when he was editor of the Strawberry Point Purgold Painter. During his career on the Trumpet staff he has been a sports reporter, sports editor and feature editor.

In the final elections for business manager of the Wartburg Trumpet Monday, May 5, Arthur Becker, sophomore Waverly, was chosen to head next year's business staff. He defeated George Baker, the other candidate, in the final election.

Mr. Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Becker of Waverly, is a graduate of Fort Collins, Colo., high school of the class of '39. He transferred to Wartburg last fall from Colorado State college of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts. He is a pre-theological student and plans on graduating with a social science major.

He has been a member of the Trumpet staff during the past year, serving both as reporter and staff photographer. He has also received experience in newspaper work through his connections with the Waverly Independent and Democrat where he holds a part-time position. In high school he was editor of the Fort Collins yearbook.

Next year, in addition to his position as business manager of the Trumpet, he expects to continue his duties as staff photographer.

Complete Laundry at Children's Home

A complete laundry which handles from 1500 to 1600 pounds of clothes (dry weight) each week is installed on the main floor of the east wing of Memorial hall.

Here a group of workers are seen using the big mangle, one of the items of equipment retained from the old laundry.

The laundry room measures 32 by 32. Among other items, it houses two Mangel washers, one handling 100 pounds dry weight and the other 50 pounds dry weight. Clothes are washed, rinsed, rinsed-and-blued, and starched without removing them from the machine.

Next they go to the extractor (a wringing-type "wringer"), and the "lambler", which rolls the clothes around in a tank of hot oil until they are dried "as much as desired." This unit is designed so clothes are "fluffed," just as if whipped by a wind out of doors.

Two presses and two boards with irons are among the other items of equipment. Clothes are brought to the laundry each day and stored in big wooden boxes until Monday or Friday, the two weekly "wash days".

felt to be a fish in a pool where everyone comes to look. Couldn't resist thinking of it while open house was in progress and we had work to do with people wandering into our room to look.

Overheard a lot of conversations on Senior day. Was curious to find out what the general feeling was. It seemed most of the people felt that it was a swell idea and in time could become another grand old Wartburg tradition. Even heard someone speaking of the time when he came here and did with a far-away look in his eye. "And in a few years our grandchildren will be here—three generations of Wartburgers!"

The music contest last week recalled the days of our own band contests. All the fun, the hard work, the excitement and the utter down-and-out-tiredness when it was over. But we don't think it was a waste of time or effort.

And then there was the guy who was so dumb he thought a mushroom was a place to neck! Well, that's about the limit and we've reached the end of our rope too, so let's just add "Thirty" and quit.

THE IMAGINARY INVALID

"The Imaginary Invalid" Wows Senior Day Crowd

268-Year-Old
Drama Introduces
New Cyclorama.

Styles and modes of living may change, but man's sense of humor remains the same. The truth of this statement was shown on the evening of Senior day, when the Waverly Players presented "The Imaginary Invalid," one of the great French comedies. Moliere, though written 268 years ago, the humor displayed is just as fresh and enjoyable to us as it was to the Parisians of 1673.

Colorful Settings.

When the curtains parted on Waverly's stage, Wednesday evening, for "The Imaginary Invalid," they disclosed to a record-breaking audience a colorful stage setting which was effected by the new blue and gold cyclorama, recently purchased by the Waverly Players. Adding to the color and variety of the setting were the effective seventeenth century costumes designed and executed by Arnold Corrigan and his staff of assistants.

The play, very ably directed by Prof. Don Tornquist, centered around the "imaginary invalid," played by Albert Dillemath, who imagines he is afflicted with terrible diseases. His servant, Toinette, played by Lois Harstad, is continually trying to make him forget his supposed illness, and finally shows him that his "dear wife" loves him only for his money. The wife, Martha Albrecht, wants to put their two daughters, Olivia Denef and Emma Klein, into a convent, and Edwin Schick, the notary, tries his best to help her get some of the money. The father, however, doesn't like the idea of putting his daughters in a convent and wants his daughter to marry a doctor, Arnold Corrigan, the son of his physician, Vernon Strempeke, for as he says, "any girl should be glad to marry for the sake of her father's health." His eldest daughter, Olivia Denef, however, is madly in love with another, Bob Wiedersanders.

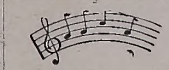

Moliere's Last Work.
In the end, Argan's nephew, Albert Martin, conspires with Toinette and they persuade Argan to turn doctor himself and "cure" his daughter's love for the lover of her choosing.

It might be interesting to know that "The Imaginary Invalid" was the last play written by Moliere. In it he pokes fun at the dangers of "little fashions" and ridicules the person who is sick only in imagination. This is especially pertinent when we realized that while he was writing this play, Moliere's health was failing, his friends the greatest anxiety.

Moliere in First Production.
"The Imaginary Invalid" was first produced on Feb. 10, 1673, with Moliere himself taking the leading role. To quote an historian: "On Friday, Feb. 17, Moliere was feeling worse, and was urged by his wife not to go to the theater. However, Moliere made his appearance as usual and acted with difficulty. In the course of the performance he was seized with a convulsion which he covered with a forced laugh. When the play was finished he complained of being cold and was carried home. He died a few hours later."

Music Notes

George Helmkamp presented a piano solo for convocation Tuesday, April 29. His selection was the "Second Value" by Godard.

For matins on Friday, May 3, Betty Wiedersanders sang "The Lord Is My Light" by Alleton. She was accompanied by George Helmkamp.

—M—
Arthur Becker played a flute solo, "Polonaise and Badinage" by Reich, for convocation on Tuesday, May 6. Ruth Mardorf accompanied him.

—M—
For convocation Friday, May 9, Helen Thompson sang a solo entitled "Prayer Perfect," by Stansbury. Ruth Mardorf accompanied her on the piano.

Music numbers at the all-school tea on April 30 included piano selections by Evelyn Brooks and Kathleen Martel, a piano duet by Edna Klein and Virginia Wagner, a flute solo by Arthur Becker and a vocal solo by Hans Sandrock, accompanied by Ruth Mardorf.

FINAL FORMAL DINNER HELD

The last in this year's series of formal dinners was held in the college dining hall Tuesday evening, April 29, with Vernon Strempeke acting as master of ceremonies. The members of the basketball team and Coach Van Dyke were guests of honor at the dinner.

Other guests included Mrs. Van Dyke, Miss Helen Wright, Mrs. Hoffman, Prof. and Mrs. Cotterman, Prof. and Mrs. Counts and Prof. Munch.

During the evening a vocal solo was rendered by Helen Thompson accompanied by Ruth Mardorf. Following this Edwin Schick presented his views on the basketball season after which Coach Van Dyke awarded the basketball letters. Letter winners were Martin Heist, Stanley Strotman, Edwin Obenauer, Harold Obermeyer, Rich Landwehr, Harold Becker, Raymond Shafer and Rudolph Langholz.

After the presentation of the award Martin Heist, this year's basketball captain, gave a talk revealing interesting occurrences during the basketball season. He then announced Stanley Strotman as next year's captain. After a short acceptance speech by Mr. Strotman the evening was concluded by the singing of songs appropriate to the occasion.

MAKE PLANS FOR 1941 FESTIVAL

Date for July Event
Not Yet Definite;
5,000 Came in 1940.

Plans are already being made for the Children's house and festival in July. Last year the event was on the 14th but as yet no definite date for the 1941 festival has been announced.

The 1940 festival was a busy day that started early in the morning when the Waverly Fire department went to the home and gave the grounds a good sprinkling. Before returning to the station the department put on a water fight for the children.

For the 1940 festival more seats than ever before were put up by the boys overseers and the boys themselves, and more people came than ever before. The officers in charge of the true site and near the grounds said that more cars had been parked than ever before. 120 cars were parked in the pasture directly east of the home, many more were parked west of the home, along the highway and on the farm yard.

About 5000 people were scattered over the place and were able to hear the services and the program.

Over 203 cases of pop, 120 gallons of ice cream, about $90 worth of candy, and many other kinds of refreshments were sold.

The offering for the day was $1,176.23. The net proceeds of the festival day were enough to support the home for one month.

ARTICLE TELLS WORK OF INSTITUTION

1859, the home's location now is a happy compromise between country and city. Located on the west edge of Waverly, about four blocks from the edge of the residential district, the home is still close enough so the children have city water and sewer service. This semi-rural location makes possible a big orchard and garden, lots of outdoor play space, and an adjacent farm which gives the children an insight into farm life too.

In addition to a girls' dormitory, school, boys' dormitory and superintendents' home the institution now has a recently completed gymnasium, auditorium, hospital, laundry-hospital workers' apartment unit. Built and equipped at a cost of nearly $60,000, this unit makes possible better service for the children, but does not and was not planned to care for more children. It is unique in that every penny of the building's cost will be paid for in cash.

The institution receives some support from the American Lutheran church, but its greatest help comes from its 138-acre farm and from individual churches, organizations and funds. In addition to A. L. C. funds, about $25,000 each year come from sources outside the home. It is needed for its operation. The Lutheran Children's Home is truly grateful for all of God's rich blessings, for its innumerable loyal friends.

Come and watch the Knights best Upper Iowa.

KNIGHT NETMEN DOWN LUTHER 5-1

The Wartburg net team made it three wins in a row as they trimmed the Luther college tennis team of Decatur 5-1 Wednesday afternoon on the newly refinished college courts.

Martin Heist lost the only match after a hard battle with Wilbur Johnson. Martin lost the first set 6-2, took the second set in love games and lost the last set 7-5 after pushing Johnson all the way.

Singles: W. Johnson (L) over M. Heist 6-2, 6-4, 7-5; G. Babin (W) over Jacobson (L) 6-3, 7-5; 8-6; H. Harkamp (W) over Norling (L) 4-8, 6-4, 5-6; E. Heist (W) over Herwig (L) 4-6, 8-6, 6-4.

Doubles: M. and E. Heist (W) over Jacobson and Johnson (L) 6-3, 7-5; H. Harkamp and L. Babin (W) over Evanson and Strom (L) 6-2, 6-3.

BEAVERS SINK WARTBURG 8-4

The Wartburg Knights were unable to protect a 4-3 lead in the sixth inning and were defeated by Buena Vista college of Storm Lake 8-4 Wednesday afternoon as part of the annual Senior Day activities.

Buena Vista scored in the first on a Knight error, a sacrifice by Lashier, and a hit by Beckman, who was the Beavers' top gun all afternoon with three singles and a triple out of five times at bat. The Knights tied the score in their half when Harstad beat out a bunt. Herron advanced Harstad with single and Harstad scored when Langholz's hard hit ball went through Lashier, Beaver short stop.

The Beavers scored two runs on singles by Beckman and McCord to give the Beavers the game as the Knights were held scoreless the last four frames. The Beavers completed their scoring with three runs in the eighth.

Coach Beaver, batter, let down the Knights with eight hits and struck out 12 batters.

COACH AND CAPTAIN

PEACOCKS SLUG WARTBURG, 14-2

The Wartburg Knights suffered their worst defeat of the current baseball season when they were trounced by Upper Iowa last Friday in a run-away game that ended with the Knights on the short end of a 14-2 score. The Knights got off to a bad start when the Peacocks went on a 4-run spree in their half of the first inning.

Upper Iowa hit safely 15 times, getting seven off Peterson and eight off Herron. Herron tied off Peterson in the third and struck out two from here on in. Peterson had three strikeouts.

Herron Hits Homer
Castors led the winners' hitting with three singles, while Herron brought in the only two runs that the Knights tallied. Herron hit a circuit clout in the seventh with nobody on and scored from third on Arthur's passed ball in the eighth while running for Landwehr.

Upper Iowa used three pitchers, Alderson, Evans, and Miller, and held the Knights to five hits. The Peacocks used 24 players during the game and Wartburg used 15.

Behind The Varsity

By E. Bula

Diamond Dope

To date the Knights have played three ball games and (ahem) lost two of them. However, like every level son of his college, this columnist can find some alibies for those two losses. According to all statistics, the gallant Knights should have had a victory in that second game with Penn. Wartburg won the first game with Pete allowing only four hits and striking out seven batters, and lost the second in which Herron allowed only three hits and struck out eight batters. A few bad breaks in the fifth inning allowed two Quakers to cross the home plate, and the Knights could not overcome that two point lead in their sixth inning rally.

There isn't much to say about the trouncing that Wartburg received at the hands of Upper Iowa last Friday except that the whole team seemed to have an off day. When they start going through Landwehr, there must be something wrong.

Let's not see these defeats get the student body disgusted with the team. They have great possibilities and the best that we can do is to get behind them and give them our entire moral support. Don't get the idea that this reporter is trying to alibi the team into those losses, but we'll have more to say after the Knights get their second crack at these teams. We have an idea that the Peacocks aren't going to have such a picnic when they invade the local diamond.

Racket Renaissance

We're very much elated about the fact that the tennis courts have been made playable. The fellows that worked on the courts really did a fine job on them, and they should be highly commended for the excellent work. Now, at least, the high school seniors have no right to criticize the condition of the Wartburg tennis courts.

Track Talk

Although there aren't too many out for track, we understand that Coach Van has some very likely material. Doc Shafer should be able to hold his own in the high jump with a little more training. The way we heard it—Schumacher would have done all right by himself in the two-mile run at Cedar Falls if his bad knee hadn't given out in that grueling sprint down the stretch. We hope that the fellows make a showing in the conference meet which is to be held soon.

Tennis Tales

Our illustrious tennis team deserves our highest praise. Because Coach Van is already a very busy man, the fellows ought out on their own time and practiced diligently for the few meets that they themselves had scheduled. To date, they have fared very well, defeating T. C. 4 to 3 and handily routing Luther 5 to 1. These fellows are true athletes—playing the game for the sole enjoyment that they receive from competitive sport.

Cage Captain

Miller, passed balls, Innen, Landwehr, hit by pitcher, by Herron (Arthur), Miller (Landwehr and Schuler), winning pitcher, Alderson; hits, off Miller 1 in 4 innings, Evans 2 in 3, Alderson 2 in 4, Peterson 7 in 25, Herron 8 in 6, umpire, Hughes, Innings 250.

FROM "SPORTS SHOTS" IN THE WAVERLY DEMOCRAT

Rudy Langholz, Knight catcher, was somewhat embarrassed in front of the visiting high school seniors Wednesday when he slid home with a score against Buena Vista. Rudy came up out of the cloud of dust into a good portion of his trousers and we do mean the rear portion. He fell over to the bench and tapped them up with about umpteen yards of adhesive.

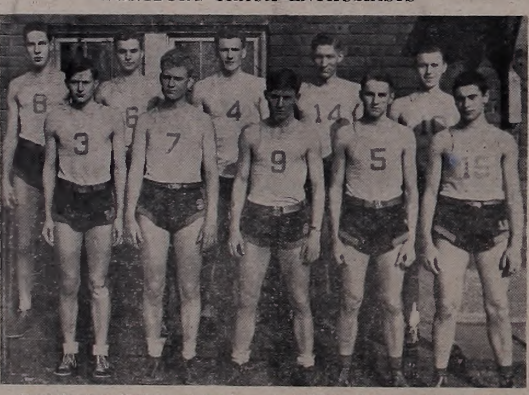

Wendell Harstad, Knight shortstop, is playing a fine game at short. He is a real hustler. He took a bad spill at second base when a runner slid into him but he stayed in the game and was on the starting end of two double plays. The Knights are not bad defensively but are woefully weak with the war club.

College Juniors Will Entertain

The Wartburg Junior-senior banquet will be held this evening in the Gold Room of the Hotel. President, Waterhouse. "Bon Voyage" is to be the theme. Decorations will be in blue and white, the colors of the senior class. The toastmaster is to be Vernon Strempke, president of the junior class. Prof. John Chetkewich will be the main speaker, and Paulus Braulick, representing the senior class, will give a short talk. A background of semi-classical music will be played by a string trio from Iowa State Teachers' college. Approximately 100 guests are expected. Ginglesons will be Pres. E. J. Braulick, Dean G. J. Neumann, and Dr. W. H. Shaeffer.

Many caretakers attending a short course at Kent State University got a practical workout on action pictures when a fire broke out near the campus.

WARTBURG TRACK ENTHUSIASTS
